

PACKY'S ZOO FAMILY

Packy's ties to the Oregon Zoo's other elephants run deep. Explore our herd's family tree to see how this tightly bonded group has grown over time. Elephants are matriarchal, so the herd's two main genealogical lines are indicated by their female founders, Belle and Rosy.

CHENDRA joined the herd in 1999 after she was orphaned in Borneo; she is Sam's favorite "auntie."

Hugo photo by Benjamin Brink, courtesy of The Oregonian.