

Scavenger Hunt

Seek and find at your zoo!

I live in the woods. I am very big and furry and two of us just arrived at the Oregon Zoo. I like to eat fish and berries. I love honey as much as you do. I am a black _____.

I was rescued along with two others and brought to the Oregon Zoo where we reside. I have strong talons and can be found perched up high along the northwest path. I am a bald _____.

I wear a tuxedo in the snow and skate on my tummy across the ice. I am a _____.

I'm spotty and speedy, but not at all greedy. I look like a leopard but don't try to play me at cards. I am a _____.

I have horns but I can't beep. I like to bleat but I'm not a sheep. I am a _____.

Fuzzy and warm in all weather, I enjoy sitting in boxes, cleaning my stripes with my rough tongue, and sleeping all day long, just like my feline relatives. I am a _____.

As spring approaches, I begin to slither out from under rocks to bask in the sunlight. I am a _____.

I am one of many of a kind sharing a space dedicated to nature exploration here at the Oregon Zoo. Often only seen as creepy and crawly, but I am a vital part of our ecosystem. I am an _____.

I have an armpit I like to use as a pocket. I also share an exhibit with two others of my kind. We like to use rocks and other tools to break open clams and other shellfish. I am a _____.

I share an exhibit with a couple other species. One is a big bird and the other has a much longer neck than I do. I am a _____.
